Revised USPS Guidelines

Next time you print envelopes, be sure to use the new USPS logo guidelines. The placement of the logo has been moved to allow for readable postmarks. Focus especially on the gray EXCLUSION ZONE (page 5) that prevents logo interference with indicia, stamps, Facing Identification Marks (FIM), and all machine postmark styles.

More good news! The USPS now applies cancellation marks to all letter pieces, including Business Reply.

Online Training | FVAP

You heard Matt Boehmer speak at the elections conference, now be sure to check out the Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP) training module. Get started! Training provided by FVAP applies towards sponsor-approved certification hours.

Welcome to the Team

We're so excited to welcome Marlene White; the newest member of the Secretary of State's Elections Team!

Marlene is our new Minority Outreach Specialist (she'll also be working with military and overseas voters and voters living with disabilities). She brings with her a solid background in outreach and customer service--from both the public and non-profit sectors. In addition, she's an alumna of The Evergreen State College

Marlene has spent most of her life in Olympia, but is originally from Guadalajara, Mexico. Marlene has two daughters, Mabel and Mariella. They are almost two years old and nearly three months old, respectively. When she is not constantly busy with her two babies, she plays tennis, hangs out with her family, travels, and enjoys good food.
